To Whom It May Concern;

It is unconscionable that Mr. Trump's plans might derail Scotland's 2020 goal to be 100% clean, renewable energy. Altho' is the Aberdeen coast the best site for the wind turbines? It seems so.

I support the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application'. Aberdeen looks so picturesque and natural; think of the surreal and beautiful reminder these wind turbines shall be of your progressive geothermal intentions.

Sincerely,

I wish to state my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application. I would hate to think that a golf course owner's proposals against the application would have much clout in the matter.

The necessity of an offshore wind farm being of far greater importance for our countries future and would far outweigh that of a millionaires playground...

To whom it may concern,

I was very disappointed to hear that Donald Trump, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] is now protesting against the building of an offshore wind-farm, simply because it will dirty the idyllic view from his golf course. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

I must very strongly approve of my building of the windfarm for two obvious and important reasons:
alternative energy and jobs.

I feel the government has let Mr Trump's say hold sway over too much already. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I only hope that they can see the light of this offshore development. In the long term, and put in simple perspective, this windfarm will be far better for Scotland as a country and a people, than Mr. Trump's golf course.

Therefore, and I shall put my partner [REDACTED] name behind this letter too, I must wholeheartedly approve of the offshore wind farm.

Many thanks for taking the time to read this. I do hope my concerns can be taken into consideration.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sirs,

It has come to my attention that, Donald Trump is objecting to the eleven proposed wind turbines, which are to be built roughly one and a half miles from the Aberdeenshire coastline. His reason is that in his opinion, they will spoil the view from his golf course development.

Of course it is blatantly obvious that Mr. Trump has a vested interest in this matter. [REDACTED]

There is a big picture here, namely the vested interests of the entire Scottish population and this is MUCH bigger consideration than Mr. Trump and his luxury golf development. The tail must not be allowed to wag the dog!! The plain fact is that we all use electricity (including Mr. Trump) and if we are to be able to do so in the future, without causing even more dangerous and perhaps irreversible climate change, we will require to generate as much electricity as possible from ALL the available renewable sources - wind, waves, tides, solar and geothermal. In this big picture, Mr. Trump and his golf course are entirely unimportant. However, the ability to supply the people of Scotland with clean and abundant energy, which is not dependent on finite, mostly imported and polluting resources, is supremely important and will certainly become more so.

The Scottish Government has a most praiseworthy target of generating 100% of Scotland's electricity from clean, renewable sources by 2020. There is therefore no time to lose and no opportunities should be wasted. Because of the very real threat of climate change, we will all have to accommodate changes in our lives and Mr. Trump had better face up to the fact that this also includes him and his businesses.

I did not come to this topic in recent years. I made my first public speech about climate change, to a young farmers group in Perthshire in 1965. I therefore wish to express in the clearest possible terms, my wholehearted support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application.

I am a resident, I run on the beach, I take my daughter and friends to the beach and really will not mind the sight of wind turbines off the coast given the benefits to the economy that this kind of development should bring. It is a positive step towards progress in the renewable sector which can only be welcomed by anyone with any concerns for the environment.

It would be madness to oppose this scheme on the basis that it would ruin the view from a golf course/leisure resort. There are a lot of other golf courses on this coast.

I write to voice my wholehearted support for the proposed offshore wind farm, consisting of 11 wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen. Whilst some people state that wind farms blight the landscape I do not agree, and any perceived negatives are far outweighed by the positives of wind farms: clean, sustainable energy, and jobs for local people.

I think it would be a truly remarkable achievement, and a strong positive signal to the rest of the world, if Scotland can achieve it's goal of generating 100% of its electricity needs from renewable, clean sources. I hope that Scotland will continue to lead the way in saying no to big business, corporate interests, and dirty energy companies, and saying yes to a clean, healthy, sustainable future that cherishes the environment.

Best wishes

Scotland's ambition to create to provide 100% of Scotland's electricity from renewable resources by 2020 is admirable. This is very difficult to achieve, and offshore wind turbines must be a very important part of achieving this aim.

I strongly support the application for the offshore wind farm off the coast of Aberdeen. This development of 11 turbines will create skilled jobs in the area, and contribute towards Scotland's renewable energy and hope that consent will be given to the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre application.

Dear Sir/Madam.

I am writing to support the wind farm operation that is due to begin construction soon. I firmly agree with Alex Salmond in saying that "Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions". I also object to Mr Trump's suggestion that the wind farm plans should be dismissed. I highly reject any of his claims towards what it may do to his golf course development currently taking place.

There are many reasons why I feel that it will be beneficial to all of Aberdeenshire to have these wind farms, and why dismissing these development plans would put Aberdeen in problematic times ahead of us.

Firstly, we all know that there are tough times at present in the financial climate, and while much of Aberdeen relies on oil for money, this will soon run out leaving us with no money, and likewise, nothing to produce electricity. Now is the time to think ahead, not when it has already happened. How can we make Scotland a place that uses 100% renewable electricity by 2020, if we are currently avoiding building wind farms?

Thankyou for your time, and I hope that I have raised some interesting points that may not have occurred to you.

I think it will be a great loss for both the NE of Scotland and Scotland as a whole if Donald Trump is allowed to ruin the chances of the windfarm generating jobs and renewable energy.

As Scotland's First Minister - Alex Salmond - has stated, 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions'.

So Donald Trump has pledged to use "any legal means" to block the building of an offshore windfarm near his championship golf course in Aberdeenshire, claiming the development would spoil his view. Is this just nimbyism taken to a greater scale, and lets be honest he has ruined the view for many folks who live and I guess used to appreciate the dunes on the Mennie estate [REDACTED]

Aberdeen is build on the success of the Oil & Gas Industry and as reserves are dwindling renewable energy should come on stream to continue the success of Aberdeen as the Energy Capital of Europe. What kind of message does it send to the rest of the world if Donald Trump is allowed to take away this peice of engineering that could showcase what Aberdeen has to offer in the Renewable Energy sector.

Please dont let him take it away, we need renewable energy and this will create many jobs and work the experience that Aberdeen needs to maintain its status in the Energy industry.

Dear Sir,

Re the above mentioned Consent Application for Offshore Wind Deployment.

I would like to say that I as someone who knows and loves the Aberdeenshire coast I believe the correct place for any wind farm development should be off shore. This is especially so as it has been shown that wind farms now sited on-shore are not very efficient.

I do not believe that efforts to prevent off shore development on 'cosmetic' grounds should interfere with this application when it is for the greater good of all residents.

Dear Sir/Madam

I am writing to give my support to the proposed European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application off the coast of Aberdeenshire which Donald Trump is objecting to.

Although I am not a convinced wind-turbine believer and would object to hundreds of the things spoiling the fantastic views in our wonderful Scottish countryside, there does seem to be an argument for the siting of them off-shore.

Trump has walked all over the objections raised against his golf complex plans and many people who should know better have buckled under the pressure from his organisation which shows scant regard for the preservation of natural beauty and areas of SSI in order to make money. Please don't let him thwart our energy plans as well!

Hi,

I want to state my support for the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application'. I think it's really important we go ahead with safe power, whether it's wind (plenty of that here), wave or solar. Pity we couldn't use the rain to generate power.

I also think wind turbines look great, I'm often in the Glens of Foundland. We need to get alternatives to oil and gas and nuclear. After what happened in Japan this year, I think that's obvious. There are many reasons tragedies can happen at nuclear power stations as we are harnessing something that is too powerful for us to control; when things go wrong we are quite helpless.

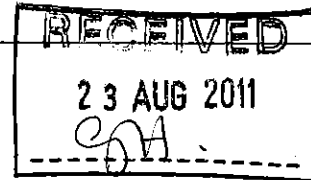

Yours sincerely

To Whom It May Concern,

I write to express my strong support for the above project, and my disgust at attempts by Donald Trump and his organisations to prevent this going ahead.

As Scotland's First Minister - Alex Salmond - has stated, 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions'. That ambition is for 100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by 2020.

This cannot be achieved without wind farms such as this, and is crucial in providing long-term sustainable and clean energy sources.

A quote from the Guardian recently sums up the situation quite nicely:

David Milne, one of Trump's most critical neighbours, whose house at Hermit Point is next to the golf course now under construction, said the billionaire developer was turning into a "New York clown". Milne's view over the dunes and the North Sea has been blocked by Trump; a 6-metre (20ft) high earth wall came first, later replaced with a row of spruce and pine trees surrounding Milne's property.

"How can a man who has just destroyed a site of special scientific interest and is in the process of despoiling an area of outstanding natural beauty with his golf course, comment on the view? It's laughable," Milne said.

Dear Ms. Marine Licensing and council,

Although I do not live in Scotland, my husband's family is of Scottish heritage and I look forward to visiting your beautiful country in the near future. I would hope that the offshore wind development would be welcome and approved in a positive move to bring Scotland to a healthier and sustainable future. Wind energy may prove to be that which releases us all from the grasp of oil.

I have read that one element standing in the way of the wind energy development is that of Donald Trump and his golf course interests. I find it appalling that Mr. Trump was permitted to go forward and ravage your beautiful coastline to develop an exclusive club. [REDACTED]

When I envision a wind energy development I see hope for a better future, when I envision the Trump golf course I see the sad destruction of coastal beauty. Please, don't sacrifice one for the other.

It is my belief that this deployment will:

- 1) Enhance the view from the neighbouring shoreline by providing a majestic example of engineering
- 2) Enable the development of offshore renewable expertise in the Scottish engineering sector to form as a basis for the gradual replacement of engineering requirements as the oil and gas sector declines with the reduction in North Sea oil production over the next few years
- 3) Provide economic and reliable electricity supplies as the price of energy increases in future years as global oil production decreases and demand increases

I wish to register my full support for the £150 million development of 11 wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen.

I know the area well through work and through family and friends resident in the area. Scotland needs to develop wind power and this particular site is well chosen.

I understand that objectors say the view would be spoiled. I live in Argyll now where we are reliant on tourism. However, villages such as Ardrishaig in Mid Argyll are to benefit hugely from the income of one turbine operating in a nearby development. Wind power can work to everyone's advantage and can obviously help to cut the size of our carbon footprint.

Letter of support

I am writing in support of the proposed Aberdeen Offshore Windfarm, which I believe is an important and exciting development for the northeast. My chief reasons for supporting it are (a) the pressing need in Scotland for long-term energy security based on environmentally benign sources, and (b) the opportunities the project will bring to Aberdeen in terms of renewable energy engineering and support services.

I would also like to comment briefly on the opposition to the windfarm by the Trump Organisation. Mr Trump's own development at Menie is now largely 'on hold' due to economic conditions*, indicating that its job creation prospects are heavily dependent on the property market. This is in marked contrast to the offshore windfarm, which can proceed in the current economic climate, when the jobs are needed the most. Mr Trump's opposition should be discounted.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I'd like to express my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre and hope that this project goes ahead without interruption from any businessman with his own personal gain in mind. This project is extremely important for Scotland as a whole and will help us to show the world that we are innovative and can lead the way in energy production in the future.

Thank you,

Wind, wave and hydro energy are the way forward for Scotland. To build them close to large cities or to power local communities is the way forward. We are not talking of a power station with constant traffic.

With rising oil prices and diminishing oil supplies we should be reserving the oil for essential commodities such as medicine, lubricants and industry.

As long as the Development at Balmedie does not impact in a negative way on the protected sand-dunes and its wildlife then it should be allowed to go ahead. Unlike the golf course, yet to be built, this is of national importance.

My understanding is that preservation of a view is not a valid reason for objection to planning permission for a project.

Dear Sirs, I wish to express my support for the offshore wind farm at Aberdeen. This development is a vital step towards Scotland's ambition to be world leaders in renewable technology, and the expertise in offshore which is centred on Aberdeen makes it an ideal location. 11 turbines will represent a beacon for the industry and will form an elegant addition to the coastal views. Contrary to what some may say, many people find wind turbines an interesting and sympathetic addition to the landscape and sea scape. I do not believe that there is any research which demonstrates that they have a negative impact on tourism.

Hi,

I've just heard that planning application for the 11 wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen is possibly being blocked by Donald Trump because they spoil the view from his new golf course. If the golf course wasn't travesty enough by moving age old villages and homes so a few rich could whack a ball around in peace and watch the sea on their own, they are now trying to stop scotland meeting it's requirements and promises for renewable energy. Energy that the whole of scotland needs.

Surely this can't be true?

Dear Sirs

I am writing in support of the above application and am delighted that Scottish Enterprise chose to provide early support for the project underlining its national and international importance.

The siting of the application offshore near Aberdeen would be able to support the city and the surrounding area into other methods of energy production as oil is in decline. Aberdeen already has a supply chain in place from oil and gas and the move to renewable energy would help diversify the economy. It would create jobs and also encourage future investment in the new marine renewables sector which is rapidly growing.

The application if approved will be an opportunity for the North East of Scotland to place itself at the head of the renewables industry and the North East could become the leader in the renewables field.

The awarding of an EU grant of up to 40m euros will support the costs associated with the EOWDC,

I urge you to support this application as the boost to the Scottish Economy will be great also it will cement Scotland's place as a leader in Renewable Energy.

Yours faithfully

Dear Sir/Madam,

I wish to register my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application in Aberdeenshire

My understanding is that there is some concern about 'the view' of these turbines from a 'protected' coastline. It seems to me that in a Planning context, whether wind turbines are attractive or not is a matter of opinion, not fact. One mans 'industrial sports complex', is another mans 'sensitive landscaping'. It is not possible to discriminate.

The proposed turbines do not appear to obstruct the view of any other feature or landscape as viewed from the coast, and in scale, as viewed from a considerable distance and surrounded by a rather large body of water (the North Sea), it does seem to me that the impact is little different from the shipping that is the permanent feature of any British sea view.

Is the Scottish Government going to start banning industrial shipping from intruding on the view from private coastal business developments?

In principal these particular man made structures cannot be considered any more, or less attractive than other man made features that might affect an area of 'natural' beauty, such as a golf course, and its associated developments, and buildings.

It does however seem to me that they offer a low impact solution to an energy problem, and also offer employment opportunities, but without permanently and physically damaging a protected landscape.

Yours sincerely,

Subject: Wind Farm off Aberdeen.

Dear Sir or Madam, I hereby declare my support for the the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application'. It is really important for the future of us all that we establish sustainable, non-polluting energy sources to keep our economy going for the foreseeable future. This is more important than the views enjoyed by temporary visitors to the Aberdeenshire shoreline who are paying a lot of money to play golf on Trump's golf course.

To Whom It May Concern,

I write to express my strong support for the above project, and my disgust at attempts by Donald Trump and his organisations to prevent this going ahead.

As Scotland's First Minister - Alex Salmond - has stated, 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions'. That ambition is for 100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by 2020.

This cannot be achieved without wind farms such as this, and is crucial in providing long-term sustainable and clean energy sources.

Dear Sir/Madam

I am writing to express my wholehearted support for the proposal for wind development offshore of Aberdeen. Such proposals are exactly what we need to meet the necessary and ambitious targets that the Scottish Government have set to deal with energy insecurity and climate change.

I know there are high profile objectors to this scheme – but if we cannot develop wind energy in a site like this then there is no hope of meeting the targets, given the far greater sensitivity of most on-shore and west coast sites.

Yours faithfully

Hello,

I'm writing to express my support for the offshore wind development proposed off Aberdeen Bay.

I supported an application for a wind generator by my neighbour [REDACTED] the generator to be placed at [REDACTED], so I am not just supporting wind power as long as it is not in my backyard. Although that generator will be providing useful power enabling more local grain processing and reducing carbon miles significantly, I understand that offshore renewables have much better potential to fulfil the Scottish Government's aim to produce 100% of Scotland's energy needs through renewables by 2020, than trying to do this onshore.

I hope that AREG's application will be successful and that the massive potential to support the NE of Scotland, not just in the production of green energy but also in establishing it at the forefront of offshore renewables in Europe, will be fulfilled. I believe it would build on the decades of experience in offshore energy production and provide the opportunity to also build for the long term economic prosperity of the area.

Yours Sincerely,

Dear Sirs,

I wish to state my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application for 11 wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen. This development is an essential part of the plan to create 100% of Scotland's electricity by clean, renewable energy by 2020.

The development will also provide highly paid and skilled jobs in Scotland.

Donald Trump's objection is that the wind turbines might spoil the view from his golf course.

'Spoiling a view' is not considered adequate grounds for objecting to planning permission for developments such as housing, so it cannot be adequate grounds for objecting to a development that will provide clean, renewable energy,

Dear Sir/Madam

With regards to Scotland's First Minister Alex Salmond statement, 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions', the ambition is for 100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by 2020. This campaign will benefit the majority of Scottish people a whole lot more than Trumps' golf course with the offer of jobs. The Offshore wind farm will create just as many jobs, if not more as well as creating clean energy which can be sold back to the grid for many, many years. It is a no brainer on which to vote for.

These could make a valuable contribution to the local economy and to the UK's carbon footprint, and would send a useful message to the world that we are serious about tackling global warming. I recognise the possible visual impact on the coastal view but as always there is a compromise to be made and in this case I feel that the balance should be in favour of the application.

Let me say I think it is a brilliant idea to proceed with Scotland's offshore wind generation in the North Sea.

The future of these projects surely lies out to sea, where any visual intrusion is negligible and wind sources are guaranteed. If targets are to be met, then let's meet them!

Dear Sir / Madam,

I would like to voice my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application for the Aberdeen inshore coastal area.

I am a resident of the city and I am a partner in a business in the city centre. My children attend school in the city and I would hope one day to see them gain skilled employment here.

I see the development as having three benefits for the city: firstly in terms of retaining our status as a centre of excellence for offshore energy provision, secondly for contributing to the future energy security of the area and Scotland in general, and lastly in terms of offering skilled employment to the city.

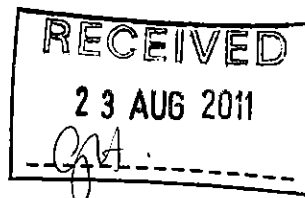

I hope that these reasons in favour of the project are given due weight in the light of the inevitable opposition it will face from wealthy interested parties who will object to it on "aesthetic" grounds. Unlike those most likely to oppose the project, I actually live and work in the City.

Thank you.

Yours faithfully,

Re: proposed wind farms offshore from Aberdeen. I would like to register my support for the proposed 11 wind turbines being proposed at this site. I am extremely concerned about climate change and energy security and feel that offshore wind is a renewable resource that Scotland must pursue with enthusiasm. I am a keen mountaineer and have noticed with resignation that on shore farms are spreading across our mountain areas. While I reluctantly must support this, I am far happier to see this country use the offshore resource.

Regarding any corporate demands to drop this site due to it's visual intrusion to the view from golf courses I would suggest that the view from a golf course which will be accessible only to the monied rich should be a distant consideration compared to our unique mountain heritage which is accessible to all.

Dear Madam/Sir

I write in support of the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application a [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Alex Salmond, and others, have consistently argued that green energy is the way forward to ensure that Scotland meets its energy needs in the future without causing further damage to the environment, and wind farms are part of that plan. Mr Salmond has also applauded Scotland for its success in achieving its green energy targets so far, and has stated that 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions' (for 100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by 2020)

[REDACTED]

Leaving aside the practical and environmental considerations, which are of immense importance to Scotland, offshore wind farms, far from being ugly or destroying views, have a certain elegance to them. During a recent visit to The Netherlands, I was struck by the number of individual wind turbines all over the area around Amsterdam, including on the tops of buildings, but more particularly the magnificent view as we approached Schipol airport of a large wind farm just offshore.

Dear Sir or Madam

Please can I voice my support for the above development? Aberdeen bay is a great site for such a development: it is relatively shallow water and close to a city and there is ready access to the grid.

I am aware of the changes made from the earliest proposals to address the legitimate concerns of shipping and Aberdeen Harbour and believe these have been addressed. Concerns from a certain US-based developer on visual intrusion are, of course, irrelevant.

I am a frequent visitor to the beach and dunes at Balmedie and while these turbines will be visible, I do not think they will in any way detract from the beauty and wildness of the dunes and beach.

The continued growth of domestic wind power on land and around our coast line is a resource we can ill afford to ignore giving the ever increasing rise in cost of imported power.

I wish to lend my voice of support to the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application. As the Scottish Government have made clear, offshore wind must play an important role in our move to sustainable sources of energy for the nation. In particular, I am concerned that the interests of the rich and powerful few do not trump the interests of the many (indeed, of the whole planet) in the proposed development of a relatively small offshore wind installation near Aberdeen.

It seems to me vital for the world's future to maximise the use of "natural" energy and to reduce the reliance on fuels which add to global warming and pollution. The British Isles pick up a lot of wind and sun energy, of which we could and should make full use. Thus I fully support the project of a wind-farm off the Aberdeenshire coast.

Subject: off-shore wind project Aberdeen

Hi

I am in favour of off-shore wind turbines as part of a range of renewable energy generating methods for Scotland. I think different generating methods should be deployed where suitable to maximise generating capacity with least disruption to the natural environment, utilising local skills and materials where possible. Visual impact is of little concern to me, in fact I find the sight of renewable energy generators to be inspiring, forward looking and reassuring.

I live between Arbroath and Forfar and in particular I support the off-shore development of 11 wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen with prospects for highly-paid and skilled jobs.

I hope offshore wind will play a key role in achieving 100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by, at least, 2020.

Dear Sirs

I write in support of the above application.

I have lived in Ellon, Aberdeenshire for the past 23 years and have enjoyed some of the best scenery the north-east of Scotland can provide, ranging from the beautiful beaches and dunes of Newburgh and Balmedie to the Grampian hills and mountains further inland. Many wind turbines have been erected over the last few years and I watch in amazement how these majestic monuments to sustainable energy grace the countryside.

I am totally supportive of renewable energy and, in respect of the above application, I understand research is being undertaken to assess the impact to the seabed and its inhabitants. Everyone is well aware of the power of wind and wave and this is a natural resource which must be taken advantage of. The benefits to Aberdeen and Shire will be immeasurable, compared only to the impact oil and gas had on Aberdeen in the early formation of that industry.

I am aware of the arguments against, such as 'it will spoil the view' however this is one occasion where such sentiment cannot be allowed to jeopardise what will be an opportunity for Scotland and Aberdeen in particular to lead the way. The visual impact will serve to remind us of the abundance and affluence of this region which, in turn, can only have an uplifting effect.

In favour.

Dear Sir/Madam

This note is in support of the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application to build offshore wind turbines near Aberdeen.

I am very much in favour of the comments by Alex Salmond that 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambition' where the ambition is for '100% of Scotland's electricity to be created by clean, renewable energy by 2020'.

I am very much in favour of helping to achieve this ambition by the building of wind farms as well as using other renewable energy sources. It is my view that wind farms will be a feature of both landscape and seascape for the foreseeable future and that an offshore wind farm near Aberdeen is an ideal location.

Yours faithfully

Dear Sir,

I would like to support the proposed 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application' for wind turbines off the Aberdeen coast. This development is in line with the policy of the Scottish Parliament for the increase in capacity of offshore electricity generation. I congratulate Alex Salmond for supporting this view. Whilst some regard onshore developments of wind turbines as being unsightly – and they possibly have a point – this objection cannot apply to offshore schemes. I think it vital for our futures that such developments be given the go ahead as soon as possible.

Many thanks,

Dear Sir or madam,

I write to express my concerns that the United States property developer Donald Trump will use his influence to unsettle the plans for an offshore wind turbine project east of Aberdeen.

I am no great fan of turbines and have, indeed, taken my part in successfully opposing a project on Deeside. But I believe that this sort of development is essential to securing a post-oil future for North-east Scotland.

We in the North-east have the necessary technology, business infrastructure and workforce skills to make a huge contribution to the world as we move into the era beyond fossil fuel.

As an Aberdonian born and bred I fully support the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application and hope that the wind turbine project off Menie estate is approved.

Dear Sir

I am writing in support of the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application.

I have lived in Aberdeen all my life and I know how close people's livelihoods are connected to the oil and gas sector. To have the emerging opportunity of green energy in the north east that can utilize the resident expertise in science, technology and engineering, as well as the many other supporting disciplines and services - I consider to be of great importance.

This wind farm has already been reduced to a third of its original size and I pray that it will now receive full planning permission and implementation as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully

I wish to express my support for the application from Aberdeen Offshore Wind Farm Ltd for the development of the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre. Offshore wind turbines are a crucial element in Scotlands energy strategy and will help to provide future energy security for Scotland and the UK as we lessen our dependence on coal, oil and nuclear. Offshore wind farms are clearly preferable to land based developments because of higher strength winds for longer periods and because strong objections, from the public, to land based turbines. I therefore strongly feel that the proposed development should be given the go-ahead.

I am aware that there are objections to this project from Donald Trump on the grounds that it will spoil his view. I believe that meeting Scotland's future energy needs is more important than Donald Trump's sea view

Subject: wind turbines are beautiul and healthy

Dear Mesdames and Sirs,

Off shore wind turbines and all green electricity and also bio gas and safe evolved intelligent caring for future of planet and species including interconnected humans - non oil, gas and coal mining based energy systems are vital for survival of us all. People who only care for the value of their properties and 'pretty' views wont have enough oxygen or health left to enjoy any view of their property if they dont get real instead of short term money,kudos, power and status addicted.

[REDACTED]

I personally think wind turbines are very, very beautiful and much prettier than electricity pylons we have had for so long trailing across the countryside and far more beautiful than phone and satelite pylons which are a health hazard with emfs from quite a distance and look apalling.

Lets have the turbines white or silver. They look even more beautiful that way. They are a shout of triumph for the future of intelligent evolution.

However I think Dale Vince's Ecotricity sunfarms under his windfarms are even better if the power is fed in locally with minimum transference investment expense - especially as he is planting wild flower meadows and therefore bee/insect and food chain encouragements and helps which we desperately need to also address at the same time, on the same land as well.

Double Standards,

Donald Trump must now know how the people of Menie feel when someone else wants to do something that affects them that they don't like. The wind turbines will bring real jobs to Scotland. The Scottish Government have been very outspoken about this new technology saying we could be market leaders and how it will secure Scotland's future after the oil has gone. I think they should call this planning application in and fast track it through as they did with the Trump development.

Subject: Ignore Donald Trump, make the Turbines

Greetings,

I just signed the following petition addressed to: Scottish Government.

 Ignore Donald Trump, make the Turbines

After seeing in the news lately a video of Donald Trump talking against the purposed off shore wind turbines off the coast of Aberdeen I was shocked. I have a couple of complaints with the way he is treating the project: 1) If I didn't live in a country and pay that countries energy bills I wouldn't take any say in what the country did to receive energy, so why should he. 2) If I didn't live in a Scotland but instead lived in a country that produced more pollution per person than Scotland I would be looking for ways to help the environment of my country instead of looking for ways to stop the help needed to the environment of a foreign. To risk sounding to much like a green party member, the world needs every little green project to help it, watching the effects of pollution on life in just the last fifty years should be enough to show things like the turbines are required.

For another year England is set to have a terrible drought, not to mention places in Africa where water is even more scarce than in Britain. The drying effect on the world is caused by a number of things one of which is the damage human kind is doing. We need to stop people like Donald Trump getting away with "bullying Scottish government" -BBC 2012, and in doing so damaging or allowing the damage of the earth to be furthered. I am glad to see the Scottish government moving forward on green plans that should lower our carbon footprint and hopefully prolong the life of the earth. Just remember most of you are going to have children, who in turn are going to have their own, who in turn... you see where I'm going, your long to come relatives have to live on the earth but with the way we are going because people like Mr Trump can pay excessive amounts of money to prevent measures to help the earth, there isn't going to be an earth.

I beg you to sign this petition if not for you for the future of the earth.

Sincerely,

I would like to express my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application.

It is crucial that Scotland meets as much of its renewables targets as possible from off-shore wind. We have seen what a slow and traumatic process onshore wind projects have turned out to be - it seems they are more suited to a community and rural development role than to fulfilled a large degree of generation capacity. And even if tidal energy takes off, we still need as much of Scotland's wind energy potential to be realised.

As a citizen of Scotland I don't want to have to watch the country miss another golden energy opportunity.

Your faithfully,

I am strongly in favour of the Consent Application of the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre relating to proposed wind turbines off the Aberdeenshire Coast and trust that the licence will be granted to allow this renewable energy facility to be developed. In my opinion it is essential that such facilities are given every encouragement as they are necessary to achieve the targets of our government for provision of renewable energy in Scotland.

I am very familiar with the Aberdeen coastline, having spent my childhood in that area, and do not consider that the placement of wind turbines so far from the shore will detract from the sea views.

Dear Sir/Madam,

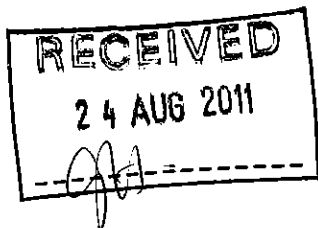

With regards to the above item I would like to express my support for the offshore wind farm that is currently being stalled by the American, Mr Trump, [REDACTED]. Under the law an application that provides substantial long term benefits to the majority of the people of Scotland, without detriment to their welfare or destruction of their culture, heritage or their natural environment upon which we all depend for our survival, must be given approval.

A golf course does not accomplish this in any meaningful way as the facility, when complete, will only come within the affordability of a very small minority of people and the profits will all but disappear into the pockets of the share holders of this development, few of whom will be Scottish.

[REDACTED]

Please fulfil the promise of Scotland's First Minister, Alex Salmond, who stated that, 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions.' That ambition is to be generating 100% of Scotland's electricity from clean, renewable energy sources by 2020. An ambition I think I would feel very proud to be a part of. It will send a very clear message to the rest of the world. One that demonstrates that where there is a will there is a way. [REDACTED]

Please add my name and voice to those calling for the construction of the Wind Farm off the coast of Aberdeen. It is imperative to use all available renewable power sources as soon as possible, and I believe the Scottish government has also stated this as a goal. Let's move Scotland forward by using new technology to power our cities and farms.

Dear Sir / Madam,

I wish to express my strong support for the offshore wind farm development planned off the coast of Aberdeen. It seems a sensible location, and we badly need all the renewable energy we can source – at least 80% by 2020, as your Topic Sheet 11 states clearly. Our First Minister Alex Salmond has stated: 'Offshore wind will play a key role in achieving our ambitions'. [REDACTED]

We understand that Mr Donald Trump has lodged an objection to the off- shore windfarm off the coast of Aberdeen.

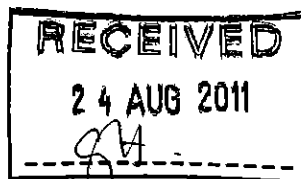

We sincerely hope that the Government will not be derailed from its excellent drive towards renewable energy and wish to express our support for the continuing development of off-shore windfarms in relation to progressing renewable energy provision in Scotland.

Hello,

I'd just like to put my support for offshore wind farms in the face of Donald Trump's suggestion that he will fight against an offshore wind farm near his golf course.

Offshore wind farms are going to be so important going into the future as onshore farms face the huge challenge of balancing needs against "spoiling" the view of the mountain areas where there is most wind.
Offshore does not have this problem

Dear Sir / Madam

With regard to the proposed bank of wind turbines for the purpose of electricity generation to be sited offshore at Balmedie, I wish to register my wholehearted support. For far too long such proposals at various points in the UK have been rejected because they would 'spoil the view'. Well that's tough because spoiling the view can be applied to anything and everything that is proposed to be built or sited where hitherto there has been nothing.

We have developed to our current state of advanced technology by progressively developing new ideas and methods of power generation as current ones start to fail or in the case of dependency on fossil fuels, run out, and the wind turbine is the latest commercially viable method of power generation, and should, or rather MUST be embraced without delay and developed to its maximum potential.

In conclusion I would add that I frequently pass two banks of turbines in the Glens of Foundland near Huntly and as I see the blades turning to drive the generator, it makes me feel good to know that it is the wind that is powering them and not an atmosphere polluting fuel.

Subject: Support for European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application

I wish to register my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application.

As a long term resident of Aberdeenshire, I am proud to be part of a community with a commitment to sustainable energy generation.

As a regular traveler to the Netherlands, I am very familiar with offshore wind farms and believe that this is an excellent step for us to pursue.

I personally prefer the offshore wind-farms to the onshore developments which hold greater risk and disruption to the local communities in which they are sited through the rare but significant blade failures, and the routine shadow flicker and turbine drone.

Ideally I would like to see every home with their own turbine to make energy generation and usage a more relevant and visible part of daily life, but I recognize this is not practical at this point in time. I believe that offshore wind farms are the next best option.

With a little foresight, I can even visualize a line of turbines from Stonehaven to Balmedie, linked by wave baffle energy generating pontoons that would provide an "Eastern Peripheral Route" alternative to the hugely destructive and much challenged WPR that has been under consideration for around 20 years already! This may seem unfeasible because of the harbour but other nations have constructed above-wave entry tunnels to accommodate similar situations elsewhere in the world... Now wouldn't that put us on the map as demonstrating an innovative approach to energy generation and minimizing the environmental harm whilst accommodating increased and necessary infrastructure?

Please register my strong support for the application.

Dear Sirs,

We do not believe that Donald Trump can have any valid objection to the wind farm proposals - certainly not on the grounds of obstructing his view. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] The wind farm is an essential development and will quickly become an accepted part of the sea-scape. [REDACTED]

To whom it may concern,

I wish to make clear my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre. I believe this project will form an integral part of the renewable energy industry and will benefit Scotland and Aberdeen on both a national and local level. The project will provide opportunities for a range of industry sectors, help realise the engineering potential Scotland has to offer and create a flagship project for offshore wind.

Received

Dear Mr Salmond,
Donald Trump – Recent press releases.

I have been an opponent of the Trump development since its inception, not least because I see Mr. Trump as an opportunist who brings little to the development and support of skills and manufacturing to Scotland.

It is true that the building of the housing estate and hotels will create short term jobs. If however, as was the case with the links, an Irish contractor is used for this, then the benefits will not be gained by the construction industry in the North East of Scotland. In the longer term, jobs created will, with the exception of a few skilled career opportunities, be service industry jobs which experience has shown will be taken by labour sourced from outwith the local area. Whether or not one likes or supports this, statistics show that local people decline to take low-paid domestic work. The result of this will be an increase in migrant labour and a greater strain put on the already overstretched resources of Aberdeen City Council in house this influx, something which will not be subsidised by Mr Trump's organisation.

A totally different prospect is seen if one looks at the other development planned, that of the wind turbine development farm. Long-term highly skilled local jobs in design, long-term highly skilled local jobs in fabrication and installation and the opportunity for the North-East, not just Aberdeen, to participate in and become a world leader in a technology which has a future not geared to servicing a possible and as yet unproven American tourist boom. In addition, the increase in marine traffic servicing this field will boost one of our greatest assets and success stories, Aberdeen Harbour, as well as the local transport infrastructure. If the wind development farm is banned, then the next thing to go will be vessels passing the Mennie development or anchoring off Aberdeen, something which would have a disastrous effect on our economy.

In my opinion and I'm sure that of the rational majority, the two developments can co-exist. If however, as Mr. Trump stipulates, a choice has to be made between the two, then compare the possibility of low-paid service jobs with the potential for skilled jobs and training for the existing and future residents of Scotland.

The choice is clear and it is time to make a stand and publically declare that Alex Salmond and the Scottish Government will not bow to pressure from those who seek to gain their own way at the cost of the greater good for our country.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Salmond

I was very shocked & disappointed when Donald Trump got his way in making our lovely Scottish coast line a wonderful place for wild life into a golf course. I was even more shocked when I heard Donald Trump is objecting to wind turbines being placed in the sea near his golf course because, he, Trump says it would spoil his views from his golf course. I don't think he has the right to interfere with the running of our Scotland. I hope he is unsuccessful with this ridiculous objection & that the Scottish Government stand up to Donald Trump once & for all. After all Scotland is our country not his. He may own a tiny part of our Scotland, I sincerely hope.

I am particularly moved to comment on the 'Trump issue' having just viewed a DVD by John Pilger on the American 'interventions' over the last few decades in a number of troubled South American states. Particularly loaded viewpoint, I realise; and Donald Trump could not (on the surface anyway) be regarded as particularly politically powerful in his own country. So, WHY is this man being given time in one of our national consultations....I read he invited himself and some government minister could not find a way of denying him. If this is a measure of the local political skills I despair.....

I'm sure this will be one of many horrified reactions.

Dear Sir/Madam

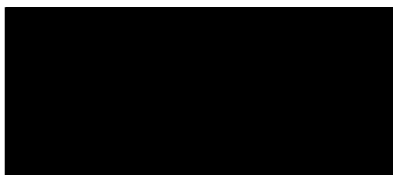

I would like to express my support for the application for the proposed wind turbines off the coast near Aberdeen. We need to act promptly to face up to the shortages that are forecast in the near future, and we cannot afford to further damage the environment by more carbon emissions.

Although wind technology is by no means perfect I feel sure it will play a large part in supplying energy to our homes and businesses in Scotland.

If we are to achieve the target of supplying 100% of our electricity from renewable sources by 2020 we must crack on and build suitable technologies in suitable places.

An added bonus is the many jobs that would be created, many drawing on the skills already found in the north east in the oil industry. There are good facilities for training young people in the north east, so it would appear to be win-win-win-win.

Many thanks

Dear Sir,

I would like to make it clear that the offshore wind development of 11+ turbines off the coast of Aberdeen is considered essential to support renewables growth in the region, and put Aberdeen firmly on the map as a progressive energy hub for the UK.

You may have noticed a downturn in oil related industry in Aberdeen recently but it is forward thinking projects like these that will keep the engineering lifeblood within the energy sector boyant for many years to come.

I firmly believe that renewable energy sources need to be encouraged at this key time, but land based systems are not the best solution for Scotlands unique landscape. Building more land based turbines will prove detrimental to tourism so the obvious solution to this is to build offshore windfarms in groups.

We must not let a few spoil plans to benefit the many.

I sincerely hope that common sense will prevail, and as I understand the law, 'views' are not a protected item unless you own the land.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to express my support for the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application' at Aberdeen Bay.

Although Aberdeen is the oil capital of Europe this is a limited resource and can't be relied upon to provide infinite amounts of power. In an attempt to develop other sources of power I feel it is crucial that Aberdeen has a wind facility that can be used to test and develop this new power source. As Aberdeen already has a substantial body of energy expertise it is common sense for this development to be in this area, which will then lead the world in renewable energy.

Dear Sir/Madam,

With this email I want to unreservedly state my support for the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application' I am a simple London based individual who owns very little but feels extremely rich in non material possessions. I have been blessed with coming into existence in a garden like our planet and hence, value every grain of sand in it, value every creature and every minute it is alive and preserved. The turbine project and any effort that we make to stop trashing and killing our garden in the awful way it has been so far is highly commendable and worth of every praise.

Thank you very much for your attention.

Sincerely ,

Progress must be maintained in the effort to fulfil the Scottish target of maximising the proportion of our energy needs supplied by renewable sources. The proposed development will contribute not only directly but also indirectly, because it will give a boost to the relevant sectors of industry in this country.

Subject: Offshore wind project

Dear Sirs

I am writing to you to support your bid for a windfarm of the Aberdeenshire Coast. Scotland is fortunate that it has a wealth of opportunities to garner renewable energy, and should take every opportunity to do so. While I would hate to see offshore wind displace onshore wind due to the higher costs of going offshore, it is really important to have a flexible outlook, and to go where the technology takes us.

I understand that has been some opposition to the proposed offshore wind farm, and in particular from one Donald Trump. I would ask, what are the alternatives? There is insufficient Uranium left in the world now to take on the electricity generation we want. And also I would assert that we all need to be much more involved in energy production ourselves, and taking responsibility for it too. It is no longer good enough to say 'Oh, we will just have to go nuclear' when the person knows full well if someone was applying to build a new Nuclear power station in Aberdeen they would protest like hell. Fossil fuels will still be with us for a while but we have to be working hard now to substitute them with renewables, for the sake of the economy and our environment.

Good luck with this

I write to register my support for the European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre consent application in respect of the proposed wind farm off the Scottish coast just north of Aberdeen.

It is vital to the Scottish Government's strategy for the development of renewable energy sources that developments of this kind proceed, and they are of much greater significance to Scotland's future prosperity than 'leisure developments'.

We hope that lobbying from those who assert that tourist potential will be adversely affected by the visual intrusion of wind turbines off the coast will be successfully resisted.

We need to push ahead with the development of on and off shore wind farms to help reduce our dependence on costly and environmentally damaging fossil fuels. My family have just erected an 850kw wind turbine on our hill. From its generation so far, we are convinced that wind power can make a substantial contribution to providing renewable electricity. The need to demonstrate the viability of off-shore wind is vital and this project will play a crucial role.

This project must not be stopped by ill-founded NIMBY comments, which ignore not only declining oil supplies but also rising CO2 emissions.

Hi

I would like to state my support for the 'European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre Consent Application' for wind turbines off the Aberdeenshire coast. This kind of development is crucial to expanding Scotland's renewable energy generation, and should not be sacrificed to placate a protesting golf tycoon. The turbines will not affect any land-based activity, particularly not golfing activities. Scotland has plenty of golf courses and not renewable energy generation.

Dear Sirs,

I am writing to show my support for the European offshore wind deployment centre consent application.

I see offshore windfarms as the best bet in Scotland for reducing carbon emmisions and making us self sufficient in energy. Much better than the more damaging onshore ones. They have the added bonus of providing refuges for fish and other sealife as well.

Donald Trump shouldn't be able to use his influence so that his view takes priority over these considerations.

As someone who lives in Scotland, and is a native of Aberdeenshire, I am writing in support of the above application for an offshore wind farm off the coast near Aberdeen.

The advantages of wind energy are obvious, and I believe that offshore developments have many advantages over land-based wind farms, including the much reduced environmental and visual impact, the positive environmental benefits and the efficiency resulting from the high wind energy resource at sea.

It would be a disgrace if lobbying and pressure from those who fear for their own money-making schemes were allowed to prevail.

Subject: Scottish wind farm proposal

I have just recently visited Scotland and found it extremely beautiful and it's people charming. Your renewable energy plan - windmills- would seem to be a sound plan which not only presents some long term sustainable energy alternatives, it will also create many well paid jobs which much of the world is crying for these days. I am sure it will do much more long term and be less of an eye sore than that [REDACTED] golf course. I must say that having driven by what was going on there is a damn sorry looking blight on the land. I was quite surprised that a nation that seems everywhere to protect and relish it's history could let one [REDACTED] secure such a beautiful area. My next trip to Scotland and any of my family's will boycott the Aberdeenshire area as our personal protest to what short sighted politicians of the area so foolishly gave up to [REDACTED] Trump.

Subject: offshore wind application

Dear Sir / Madam,

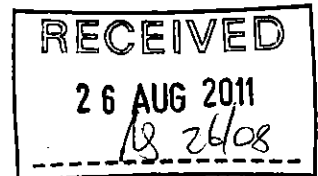

I would like to voice my support for the offshore wind energy programme currently being rolled out around the Scottish coastline. As long as these turbines are not in migration routes or in areas where it is known to be an important bird feeding area, there is no other reason for refusing an application for wind deployment.

The turbines are placed so far out at sea that ANY objections to wind turbines on the basis of spoiling the view should be treated with the contempt they deserve. Any view of the turbines will be so minimal as to render any such objection irrelevant, no matter who puts forward the objection.

I trust that you will put Scottish green energy before any objection made on grounds of the spoiling of the view as they are too insignificant to give weight to. Thank you.

yours sincerely

I wish to register my opinion regarding the planned European Offshore Wind Deployment Centre near Aberdeen.

Much is postulated of the post oil era for Aberdeen. While the area continues to enjoy the fruits of the oil industry to think of not going ahead with the proposed development would be folly indeed as more jobs can only come out of such developments and surely we should be encouraging every aspect for green energy development.
