Duncansby Head is a coastal headland near John o' Groats providing views out to the Orkney islands to the north and the rugged coastline to the south. The camera point is on a popular path which links the car park near Duncansby Head lighthouse to the cliff-top walks. The location is south of the trig point, near the corner of a fenced-off area of open ground to the south-west of the lighthouse and is situated a metre or so off the main path.
