Hello Neil,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to the additional information submitted by the applicant in relation to marine archaeology.

Although we do not have any concerns with regards to the safety of navigation as a result of this additional information (and noting the works are within a Statutory Harbour Authority's jurisdiction), I have sent the documents on to the Receiver of Wreck to ensure there is nothing else which I should advise on behalf of the MCA at this time.

I will get back to you as soon as possible with any other information from the Receiver of Wreck.

Kind regards

Helen

Dear Sir/Madam,

MARINE (SCOTLAND) ACT 2010, PART 4 MARINE LICENSING
THE MARINE WORKS (ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT)
(SCOTLAND) REGULATIONS 2017 (AS AMENDED)

00008749/ 00008748 – Stornoway Harbour Authority - Construction and Capital Dredging - Deep Water Port, Glumaig Bay, Stornoway

Marine licences have been requested under the Marine (Scotland) Act 2010 in regards to the proposed Deep Water Port project, Glumaig Bay, Stornoway. An Environmental Impact Assessment (“EIA”) report was submitted under the Marine Works (EIA) (Scotland) Regulations 2017 (as amended) (“the EIA Regulations”) with the applications and supporting documentation, which you were previously consulted on 24 December 2020.

Further to the consultation on the applications and EIA report, additional information has been submitted by the applicant in relation to marine archaeology. In accordance with the EIA Regulations, a copy of this additional information must be supplied to everyone who was provided with a copy of the EIA report. The additional information can be found at the following link:

<http://marine.gov.scot/data/additional-information-deep-water-port-glumaig-bay-stornoway-0701707018>

All the information about the project, including the EIA Report, can be found at: <http://marine.gov.scot/ml/deep-water-port-glumaig-bay-stornoway>. The information provided in relation to the project including all other environmental topic assessments other than marine archaeology remain as per the information provided within the EIA report which you were previously consulted on. Any previous representations which you have submitted with regards to the above marine licence applications will be considered.

Please submit your representations on the additional information to ms.marinelicensing@gov.scot by 12 July 2021. If you require an extension to the consultation period, please request this in writing as soon as possible and within 30 days of this email.

Kind Regards,
